

Developer Don Peebles Is Back In Miami with Proposed Beach Condo Project

July 31, 2013 1:09 PM | Read 506 times

Written by DILARA TUNCER | Published in NEWS

Miami developer and real estate entrepreneur R. Donahue Peebles has recently proposed a 16-story, high-rise condo located just south of Canyon Ranch in Miami Beach.

Alongside other developers that are also holding forth in Miami Beach, Peebles is proposing 13 units on 6767 Collins Avenue. Each unit has approximately 5,600 square feet of living space. The building will also contain two-story penthouses, each of which has 10,000-square feet of space.

He is known for developing the luxury residential tower, The Residences at Bath Club, and the Royal Palm Hotel as well as running for mayor in Washington D.C., where he currently resides.